Hong Kong, 23 June 2016 Hong Kong's low-fare airline HK Express is thrilled to announce that the IATA Operational Safety Audit (IOSA) programme renewed the airline's registration for the next two years.

"The renewed IOSA registration reflects our team's unfailing commitment to safety and security," said Simon Wu, Director of Operations at HK Express. "There is nothing more important to HK Express than ensuring that our valued Guests fly confidently onboard our flights."

HK Express continuously updates its practices to follow the most up-to-date safety standards. The renewed IOSA registration from the International Air Transport Association (IATA) is a testament to the airline's commitment to conform to aviation's best practices.

"We are incredibly proud of our team's commitment to uphold the best practices in the aviation industry," said Andrew Cowen, Director and CEO of HK Express. "We will continue to improve and innovate our operations to ensure we are at the forefront of aviation safety across all markets."

Created in 2003, the IOSA is an internationally respected safety evaluation programme that acknowledges only the highest quality airlines in the world, assessing each airline's operational management and control systems. The thorough IATA audit has been developed in cooperation with international regulatory authorities, including Australia's Civil Aviation Safety Authority and the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), among others.
